

Splash[®] Technology

Engineered for life on the water—
but it was designed for so much more than surviving it.

For decades, Morbern has been helping shape the marine experience with high-performance coated fabrics built to handle sun, salt, movement, moisture, and everything in between. From fishing boats and pontoons to luxury cruisers and high-speed vessels, Morbern surfaces have long been trusted to perform beautifully under pressure.

At the core of Splash is a highly tailorable 4-way stretch construction that allows the material to conform smoothly around curves, contours, corners, and complex foam applications with remarkable ease. The result is a cleaner finish, reduced puckering, fewer visual imperfections, and a more refined upholstery experience overall.
